A major pediatric medical practice will soon locate in Brentwood. Packard Children's Health Alliance has acquired a leased 3,500-square-foot space at 100 Cortona Way off Balfour Road.

Packard is affiliated with the Lucile Packard Children's Hospital at Stanford University and the Stanford School of Medicine. City leaders say that this is a sign of Brentwood's continued increase in business activity, especially in the health care sector.

"This deal is huge for Brentwood," Brentwood Economic Development Manager Alex Greenwood said. "It is yet another sign of the booming health care business taking place in Brentwood."

Greenwood noted that Brentwood already houses state-of-the-art medical facilities, including John Muir Health Outpatient Center on Balfour.

"We welcome the addition of Packard, which brings a nationally recognized expertise in pediatric care and strong affiliation with the Stanford School of Medicine and other partners," he said.
